

TEAM TYPE 1 AT A GLANCE

For More Information, Contact:

Sean Weide, Media & Communications Manager
P: 785.304.1845 | F: 402.393.4603 | E: sweide@gmail.com

Country: United States

Team Website: www.teamtype1.org

2008 Roster: 15 professionals, 11 developmental riders

Bikes: Orbea

2008 Highlights:

Shawn Milne, second place overall, Tour de Taiwan

Runner-up, team classification, Tour of Langkawi

Third-place, team classification, Tour de Georgia presented by AT&T

Team Type 1 was created in 2004 by Type 1 diabetes racers Phil Southerland and Joe Eldridge to inspire people living with diabetes to take a proactive approach to managing their health and overcoming the obstacles often associated with the condition. In 2006 and 2007, the team won the eight-rider corporate team division of the Race Across America. In 2008, a 15-rider professional continental cycling team was established, which includes four riders with Type 1 diabetes. The pro team is led by Matt Wilson, a Tour de France veteran and former Australian national road champion. Team Type 1 General Manager Tom Schuler and Sport Director Ed Beamon are two of the most established names in domestic cycling, having previously directed the longtime Saturn and Navigators Insurance teams, respectively.

Professional Team – 15 Riders (four with Type 1 diabetes)

Emile Abraham (Trinidad and Tobago)

Moises Aldape (Mexico)

Jesse Anthony (United States)

Ben Brooks (Australia)

*Fabio Calabria (Australia)

Glen Chadwick (New Zealand)

*Joe Eldridge (United States)

*Timothy Hargrave (New Zealand)

Daniel Holt (United States)

Chris Jones (United States)

Valeriy Kobzarenko (Ukraine)

Ian MacGregor (United States)

Shawn Milne (United States)

*Phil Southerland (United States)

Matt Wilson (Australia)

Indicates has Type 1 diabetes*

Developmental Team – 11 Riders (all with Type 1 diabetes)

Nathan Bartels (United States)

Alex Bowden (United States)

Matt Brooks (United States)

Monique Hanley (Australia)

Andy Mead (United States)

Morgan Patton (United States)

Tim Powell (United States)

Bob Schrank (United States)

Mark Suprenant (United States)

Adam Driscoll (United States)

Kerry White (Australia/United States)